Blood Bank Wed., Sept. 17

Yes, the Red Cross, not the Red Coats! And it's over 200 years since Paul Revere awoke the countryside who responded totally and began the struggle for independence that created the United States of America.

If there was only a way in which the Good Neighbors of Crawford County could be equally alerted to the serious shortage of life saving Blood in our Nation today and have them respond similarly and come and give a pint of their precious Blood to keep some sick person alive and restored to health!

Our wonderful regular Blood Donors of Crawford County are doing their share and more, but Blood donations are far below requirements in most of the State of Michigan below a line from Bay City to Ludington.

Summertime is always the slow part of the year, but See Red Cross on Page 18

City Police Arrest Suspect In Scheer Motors Vandalism

Grayling City Police arrested Darrell Dedafoe, 20, of Grayling, in connection with vandalism at Scheer Motors causing $50,000 to $80,000 worth of damages.

Dedafoe, who was employed at Scheer Motors during the time of the vandalism over Labor Day weekend, is charged with breaking and entering, three counts of malicious destruction, and unlawfully driving away an automobile. Bond was set at $50,000.

Dedafoe's 49-year-old father was arrested on a felony charge of being an accessory after the crime and is to be arraigned in 83rd District Court next week. City police said he was not involved in the vandalism but is charged with concealing evidence. Bond was set at $1,000 for the 49-year-old Grayling resident.

The vandalism suspect was arrested after a state police detective received a tip about the incident.

A new 1987 Plymouth Reliant four-door was stolen from the auto dealership located along Old US 27 north of Grayling and used as a battering ram to damage several other cars on the lot. Approximately 160 tires on cars on the lot were slashed and interiors in several cars were also slashed or ruined.

The new car was also used to crash through two service garage doors and minor damage was also caused inside two buildings by the vandals. A dumpster at the corner of one building was rammed by the car sending it crashing into the building and causing damage.

About twenty cars being serviced by Scheer Motors were also damaged, and a log was thrown through a showroom window.

The 1987 car was driven off the lot after the vandalism and discovered later by police off Chase Bridge Road. It was extensively damaged and torched.

EMERGENCY AIR BAGS PURCHASED — Scott Fick (middle) and Chuck Fick (left) present Loren Goodale, assistant fire chief for the Grayling Fire Department, a check for $500 on behalf of Steve Fick and other employees at C.F. Fick & Sons to help purchase these two emergency air bags shown. The two bags, when inflated with air, can lift up to 31 tons. They will be used by the fire department's rescue team. The bags cost $1,500, and the department raised $1,000 from a coupon campaign.

Commission on Aging Considering New Senior Citizen Center Proposals

By Jon Thompson

The Crawford County Commission on Aging will hold a public hearing Thursday, Sept. 11, at 6 p.m. to look at proposals for building or buying a senior citizen center.

One proposal calls for buying the Assembly of God church located at 911 Elm. The building would cost about $40,000 and an architect estimated a complete renovation would cost $155,000.

Sherry Haag, director of Commission on Aging programs, said they could receive about $55,000 in state money for renovation and equipment.

Another possibility for a new center would be to buy land and put up a pre-fabricated building. Haag said. She said these are just possibilities the Commission on Aging wants to discuss with the public.

Currently, the Commission on Aging rents four offices, a kitchen, and recreation room from the Grayling Housing Commission. Haag said the Commission on Aging would rather own a building because more grant monies would be available if they owned a building, space is a bit of a problem where they're at, and there are certain regulations restricting some of their activities while they are in a public housing building. For instance, she said the Commission on Aging is limited in major fundraising in the building.

Haag said it's hard to tell what type of reaction any proposal will receive Thursday night.

"There's a lot of mis-information out there," she said. "Some residents at the Grayling Housing Commission are afraid that if the Commission on Aging leaves, they no longer will be eligible for services."

"That is not true," said Haag. "They will still receive services. Meals will still be served there and at the other place. Home-making services and other services will still be available."

"The Commission on Aging provides services for all seniors in the county, not just seniors here at the housing commission. From our survey we found out 27 percent of the people receiving our services live here at the complex. The remainder come from all over the rest of the county."

The Commission on Aging has about $14,000 in a building fund. Haag said the Commission on Aging is paying approximately $10,000 in rent a year right now. The Commission on Aging rents by the year at the Grayling Housing Commission. To be eligible for state grants, the Commission on Aging must own a building or have a long-term lease.

The Commission on Aging has been checking into a new building for about two years, Haag said. Ruby Reetz, Blanche Miller, Barbara Selesky, and George Wingeler have worked on a committee gathering information.

Some seniors want the Commission on Aging to purchase the building they're renting from the Grayling Housing Commission, but Haag said this is virtually impossible because it is a HUD building constructed for residents at the housing complex. The Commission on Aging did ask Congressman Bill Schuette to inquire about buying the building, however, and a report from Schuette may be obtained in time for the public hearing Thursday. The hearing will be at the Grayling Housing Commission on Lawn-dale.

Authorities Investigate Illegal Range Activity

By Captain Wayne Wells

Camp Grayling Commander, Colonel Richard K. Schmidt, and the personnel at the Post Range Office are perplexed by the foolishness of people trespassing upon the impact area of the artillery range located northeast of Grayling.

The most dangerous portion of the artillery range has been fenced. This barrier keeps people from inadvertently entering the impact area, but for those who think the fence delineates an area of boundless excitement, it is but a minor inconvenience. Vehicles have battered down steel gates and wire cutters have cut openings in the fence through which people have driven into the impact area.

Camp Range Operations personnel are most concerned about the possibility of dud explosives being removed from the impact area and carried into the community. Such a threat clearly poses dangers for the public. All projectiles intact on the artillery range are a serious threat that should be only addressed by trained experts.

Sergeant Ed Baugh, a field artillery representative at the camp's range office, said, "No greater danger to the community exists than the hazard from improperly handling unexploded dud munitions. Some explosives that could be found in the impact area can not be safely handled or moved even by experts. There's just no safe way to disable some unexploded munitions. In most cases destruction by exploding in place is the only way Army experts do it."

Both ground patrols and aircraft observers have been employed in an effort to identify the vandals involved. The sheriff's and prosecutor's offices have indicated that they will vigorously support the military's effort at eliminating the trespassing problem on the artillery range.

Investigators determined that one incursion involved a jeep-like recreation vehicle and probably at least one teenager judging from the size six tennis shoe prints left at the scene. Such impressions including tire tracks have been cast to aid investigators. Anyone having information that might aid authorities is asked to telephone Camp Grayling Range Operations at 348-3700.

Sheriff Dept. Tip Leads To Police Raid Netting Drugs, Guns, and Money

A tip from the Crawford County Sheriff Department led to a police raid in Lansing that netted more than $114,000 in cash, three truckloads of suspected stolen goods, two ounces of cocaine, and six pounds of marijuana.

The information leading to the raid was obtained by Crawford County Sheriff detective Jeff Anthony and Sheriff officer David Lovely after investigating a breaking and entering in South Branch Township.

On September 3rd, 12 guns were reported stolen from a residence on East Pioneer Rd. On September 4th, the sheriff dept. arrested a 29-year-old Houghton Lake man and a 36-year-old Auburn man in connection with the theft of the guns. Information obtained from the suspects indicated there was a residence in Lansing housing stolen property.

Anthony, who was recently promoted to detective and was working on his first case as detective, called the Lansing Police Dept. with the information. They obtained a warrant and 14 officers raided the residence at 2124 N. East St. about 8:30 p.m. Sept. 4th.

Lawrence Whiting, 46, and Gary Lee Pringle, 47, were arrested on drug charges in the raid. Among the items found at the residence were 48 rifles and shotguns, 9 pistols, cameras, televisions, video cassette recorders, telephones, stereos, and other electronic equipment.

Crawford County Undersheriff Tom Coors said the Lansing Police Dept. called after the raid and said they really weren't expecting to find such a large operation through the tip from a small sheriff department in northern Michigan.

Depot Added To State Register of Historic Sites

The Grayling depot, built in 1882, has been added to the State Register of Historic Sites by the Michigan Historical Commission.

Michigan Central Railroad built the depot and it served the railroad business for 90 years. The Crawford County Historical Society now uses the depot for a county museum.

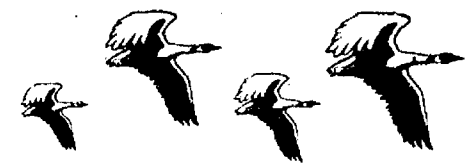

The depot was built as part of the expansion of Michigan Central Railroad to serve the booming lumber industry. Later as timber production declined, the depot also served as a way-stop for tourists heading for northern resorts.

The State Register was established in 1965 to recognize historic sites in Michigan.

From Our Corner...

Just in case you are interested...

We talked to a few people Friday and Saturday and their only remark is that you must be becoming senile...

I guess the reason they made the remark is that I told them our bride and I were going to get a new baby up in Gaylord on Saturday afternoon...

After Saturday night I can appreciate their remark...the new addition to our house kept us up just about all night, and it was quite a new experience around the house Sunday morning when Thelma took off for the links...

It has been years that I have made so many trips out to our back yard...it seemed the back door became a swinging door Sunday morning...but then, I didn't want to take any chances of having to clean something up...

I do have to say though, she is the cutest little like I have ever seen...just wondering how many of our readers have made the same remark?...

Tasha, a nine week old Lhasa Apso joined our household over the weekend...we really got her because Thelma said, "you know you will have to have some companionship next summer when you are retired and I will be on the links as much as possible"...

They say, a dog is a man's best friend...and seeing as how I don't hunt, I don't need any of the kind of hunting dogs there are...so, I guess the Lhasa serves the purpose for the ol' fella...and besides, we owned one previously for 11 years, and they sort of grow on you...

Getting Tasha is really going to foul up the ol' fella...this past winter we got out of the job of going out in front, shoveling the walk and starting Thelma's car so she could go to work...she retired...now it looks like I'll have to shovel a walk in the back yard so Tasha won't get lost in a snow bank...

But then, they say, when you're retired you have time on your hands...I'll let you know in a few months...that is after I get through with our divorce case over getting our den cleaned out...

I never knew that boxes could multiply...they certainly do in our house...and besides that we have a Port-a-crib with mattresses that we have loaned out to our friends and has been returned and is in our living room...I want to sell it, she wants to store it so someone else may want to borrow it...our only salvation is that it's not going in our den...there's no room...

I guess I have to go along with Rev. Regan when he wrote quite a while ago to the fact I dig holes one week in our column so I can cover them the next...this past week proves I I guess...I mentioned last week that with Labor Day weekend over with...summer was done...Rena caught that and asked me how come, summer is still with us...

I looked at the calendar today, and dang it all Autumn does not start until September 23rd...all I can say is sorry, you all have another week and a half to appreciate the summer of '86...then the color will be in abundance for a couple of weeks, hopefully...

With the advent of autumn, and the chilly days we have been having, quite a few of our summer snow birds are starting to pack their duds with the anticipation of joining the geese on their trek to the south and west...

Thanks Rev., that helped to fill a part of this week's turkey...

Help Needed...Join the Band Wagon and call in your pledges the week of the 15th thru 19th...phone 348-2555 or 348-5488 and help the Viking Band...see ad on page 11...

A memo to Grayling's own proclaimed Deacon and retired railroad man...the name of Tasha will not be added to our sign off of our board of directors...that is a closed corporation...

With that we will bid T.J., Stefany and Amber goodnight, and all we can say is have a nice weekend, and appreciate the color that is coming up...

The first Dairy was operated in the basement of the Amos Hunter residence on Michigan Ave., but as the business increased it was necessary to secure larger quarters, so the present site on Cedar St. was purchased and the present fine white glazed brick structure built. Leslie Hunter had worked at the Dairy since 1933 with the exception of nine months spent in the air corps service. Thus he was already familiar with every branch of the business at the time he took over its operation. The firm has handled Valley Lea products since 1947.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Broadbent invited eleven young men, ages 8 to 12 roughly, from their neighborhood for a vegetable dinner at the Broadbent home Tuesday evening of last week, in appreciation of the fact that they had stayed out of the garden from which those vegetables came. The Bible Speaks

From Calvary Baptist Church

CATHOLIC MORALITY BEYOND CURRAN?

Did Vatican removal of Charles Curran from his teaching position at Catholic University end the problem of new morality for Catholics? What about the hundreds of Catholic theologians who signed petitions to support Curran? What about the many new textbooks in Catholic colleges and universities across America promoting the new morality?

Timothy E. O'Connell authored the first Catholic textbook in America promoting the new morality. Curran wrote the foreword praising O'Connell for incorporating "recent developments in moral theology." Prior to Vatican II such textbooks were based on the manuals of moral theology of the Roman Catholic church. Older Catholics may remember reading the Latin words "Theologia moralis ad normam juris canonici" in the front of the text. These words mean, "Moral theology according to the norm of canon law." Canon law on morals and ethics relied heavily upon Holy Scriptures.

While O'Connell claims to believe in the infallibility of the pope and the Roman Catholic church, he claims neither the pope or the church have exercised this authority in moral matters. O'Connell said, "Indeed, in the entire history of the Roman Catholic Church, there has never been a clearly infallible pronouncement by either pope or council on an ethical issue. All the teaching that has taken place has been of the sort known as 'ordinary magisterium,' teaching that does not pretend to be protected from the possibility of error." O'Connell implies neither his pope or his church have even pretended to give him inerrant truth about moral right and wrong which will effect his daily life and eternal destiny.

What does O'Connell believe about the moral and ethical teaching of God's Holy Scriptures? He says, "...some concrete moral judgments of the Bible can in no way be supported today." Concerning trust in the Bible, he says, "...the simple fact is that one cannot give the biblical texts implicit and uncritical trust." So O'Connell, Curran and other modern Catholic theologians have been undermining all absolute authority on moral questions of right and wrong in the minds of their students at Catholic colleges and universities across America. Next week we shall study the new authority which is replacing the pope, the church, and the Bible in moral education for future Catholic youth. I am sure this morality will not be acceptable to older, more conservative Roman Catholics. (Hear "The Bible Speaks" at 12:15 p.m. Tuesday on WQON 100 FM).

Lets reach into the quotebag

by Richard Millman

HOW TO WRITE a column using other people's words or, let's reach into the old quotebag this week...

WALTER CRONKITE, America's favorite television newscaster and everybody's Uncle Walter, about what worries him most about life now:

"I think we face four major mega-problems that are really so gross that we have trouble even conceiving of them, let alone tackling them.

"I call it the Four Horsemen of the Apocalypse riding down on the population: Pollution, population, depletion of natural resources — including fresh air and water — and proliferation of nuclear devices. Any one of these can destroy the world.

"The first one may very well... We've only got this one ship of ours floating out there in space in a closed environment and using up the fresh air and fresh water and not doing anything to return it to the environment...

"And as for strength through the military, it's not what has given America its appeal in the world; it's not in keeping with the banner and beacon of hope and the Statue of Liberty. People love the United States because of the dream of democracy and freedom. You can't teach democracy through the sights of a helicopter gunship."

PAUL HARVEY, America's favorite radio newscaster, has the four highest-rated shows in the country, syndicated to 1,140 stations here plus 400 stations overseas, plus a thrice-weekly newspaper column and a television commentary. He described his lively on-the-air style:

"If we enlighten without entertaining, we lose our audience. I can be an expert on pipelines in Arabia and not be able to hold an audience on that subject. If we entertain without enlightening, then, of course, we waste this wonderful opportunity. It has to be a mix of both. But it's not singular with Paul Harvey. You see it everywhere on primetime television."

THE DURABLE and versatile entertainer, Jackie Gleason, told an interviewer he doesn't like very many of today's television shows, but The Cosby Show is one he does like. Why?

"Very good. No jokes. All these new black shows coming up are going after Cosby and they're never going to catch him. It's the attitude of his show, the attitude of the people in the show toward each other. They like each other and you like them for it. That's very important. Once you get the audience to like the people, you're halfway home.

"The Honeymooners has lasted because, first, it's funny. And second, because the audiences like the people. Alice and Ralph really love each other. Everybody has a Norton and a Kramden in the family.

"You know, there's no real love between the characters in most sit-coms today. Everybody is going for a laugh, and the reality falls apart."

COLUMNIST LEWIS GRIZZARD was writing about "Alvin," a 30-year-old homeless black man who slept in the streets of Washington:

"I asked him if he was angry with Ronald Reagan, who is supposed to be heartless when it comes to the poor.

"He ain't the one that got drunk and beat up his woman and got thrown in jail. That was me," Alvin answered. "I got myself in to this mess and I got to get myself out of it now."

"I think I said something stupid in return, like 'Hang in there,' but forgive me. It's not every day I am confronted with nobility in rags."

H.L. MENCKEN was another newspaperman, known for his wit and sarcasm in a long career before his death in 1956. A sample from Mencken:

"It is a fact provocative of sour mirth that the Bill of Rights was designed trustfully to prohibit forever two of the favorite crimes of all governments: seizure of a citizen's property without adequate compensation, and invasion of a citizen's liberty without due cause.

"It is a fact provocative of mirth yet more sour that the execution of these prohibitions was placed in the hand of the courts, which is to say lawyers, which is to say men who are specifically educated to find legal excuses for dishonest, dishonorable, and anti-social acts."

AND FINALLY, from a column by syndicated columnist Charles Krauthammer:

"A statesman is a retired politician who urges his successors to do all the noble things he never had the courage to do."

Canine Candy Strippers Help Health Care Center Residents

Herbal Corner

A while back I told you that Bulgaria's monetary system was backed by a field of roses from which they distill the oil for the perfume world. I also told you that the rose field was 60 miles long and one mile long. I was wrong. Yes, darling, that does happen on occasion. In fact the rose field is 80 miles long and 30 miles wide.

Oil of Rose is light yellow in color, sometimes possessing a green tint. When cooled, it congeals to a translucent soft mass, which is again liquefied by the warmth of the hand. I started some Rose oil this summer and will continue the process next year when I have more roses available. It takes 30 roses to make one drop of otto (oil) and about 60,000 roses (about 180 lb. of flowers) to make 1 ounce of otto.

"The Bulgarian distillers do not obtain all their otto direct from the petals. About 25 pounds of flowers is distilled with about 50 litres of water, after being charged in the alembic (a process of distillation that purifies or alters). They draw from this charge, 10 litres of distilled water, from which they gather a very small quantity of green concrete essence. When they have made four distillations, they carefully collect the 40 litres of water and redistill and obtain 10 or 15 litres of liquid. It is reckoned that 4,000 kilos of flowers yield one kilo of otto, of which only one-third - the green essence - comes from the first distillation and the other two-thirds - yellow - are the result of re-distilling the waters." French otto is more expensive because they distill once with 10,000 kilos of flowers for one kilo of oil.

Herbally yours,
E. Diona Cerelli, C.H.

MICHIGAN MIRROR

Supreme Court Upholds 180-Day Limit on Petitions

Warren M. Hoyt, Exec. Dir., MPA

Michigan's controversial statute limiting valid initiative petition signatures to those collected less than 180-days before filing has been upheld by a unanimous Supreme Court.

The decision effectively ends the possibility of either a proposal limiting electric utility rate hikes or instituting capital punishment appearing on the November ballot, and throws doubt on the ability of the part-time legislative drive to gather enough new signatures before filing for the 1988 election.

The court acted one week after the Court of Appeals unanimously ruled the statute was constitutional. The unanimous per curiam decision was signed by Chief Justice G. Mennen Williams, and Associate Justices Dennis Archer, Michael Cavanagh, James Brickley and Patricia Boyle. Justice Dorothy Comstock Riley did not participate as she is out of the country.

Both Ingham County Circuit Judge Robert Holmes Bell and the Appeals Court were correct in their rulings that the Legislature had the power to set time limits on the effectiveness of petition signatures in Consumers Power Company v Attorney General, the court said.

The Legislature did not set an absolute time limit for collecting signatures, the court said, but created a lawful, rebuttable presumption that petition signatures collected more than 180 days before filing were invalid.

"Our Constitution clearly authorizes the Legislature to prescribe by law for the manner of signing and circulating petitions to propose constitutional amendments," the opinion states.

"The statute sets forth a requirement for the signing and circulating of petitions.

"The purpose of the statute is to fulfill the constitutional directive... that only the registered electors of this state may propose a constitutional amendment."

The court rejected arguments by Attorney General Frank Kelley, who held that the statute was unconstitutional in 1974, that a 1923 decision outlawed legislative attempts to block initiative petitions.

But in high court's decision, the court said its earlier ruling was based on the 1908 constitution which, unlike the current document, did not include a provision allowing the Legislature to set legal requirements on petition signatures and circulation.

The decision, though brought by Consumers Power and Detroit Edison in an effort to block a proposal by the Michigan Citizens Lobby from getting on the ballot, kills both the Citizens Lobby proposal and a proposed amendment reinstating capital punishment for first degree murder.

Previously, the State Board of Canvassers ruled that neither proposal could go on the ballot, if the 180-day statute stood, because neither had collected more than 304,000 signatures within 180 days of filing.

The canvassers determined that 315,675 of the 371,247 signatures filed by the Citizens Lobby exceeded the 180-day requirement, while 170,912 signatures of the 342,058 filed by death penalty advocates exceeded the requirement.

The ruling will also make it more difficult for the part-time legislature proposal, led by former GOP gubernatorial candidate Richard Chrysler, to collect sufficient signatures by the time the proposal is filed for the 1988 election.

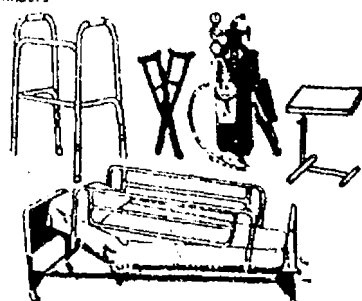

In July, Chrysler and leaders of the drive decided against filing their signatures for November because they did not have a sufficient cushion. The group plans to file its signatures November 3 for the 1988 election.

Lighting Needs Change as we Age

BY Gail Edwards, Ext. Home Eco.

Lighting is a very important consideration in our housing. It affects us physically and psychologically. A general rule in planning lighting is to strive for a good balance of light in the whole room. Do not light an area for reading or working and leave the rest of the room in semi-darkness. The older we get, the longer it takes our eyes to adjust their focus. Forcing them to adjust from bright light to dim light compounds the problem.

Choose either floor lamps or table lamps that are tall enough so that most of the light is directed onto the page or work area. Position the lamps so that your body does not cast a shadow on your work. Always use a light-colored shade to allow the maximum amount of light to filter through.

After age 40, our eyesight begins deteriorating, says Sally Wheeler, Extension assistant in housing. Seventy percent of the population requires some form of corrective lenses by age 60.

As we age, our sensitivity to glare also increases, so avoid high contrasts, such as white papers on black desk top, or reflective work surfaces, such as a glass-topped desk. Many people find the angle of a drafting table provides maximum comfort for paperwork.

Have you had the experience of seeing a parent turn the light on for a child, saying, "You're going to ruin your eyes reading in the dark"? By the time a person reaches age 65, he or she needs three times as much light to perform a task as a teen-ager does. This explains why parents and teens have different perceptions of how much light is really necessary, and it should reassure parents that their children are not, indeed, destroying their eyesight.

Light also affects us psychologically. Studies have correlated some forms of depression with the lack of sunlight and the short days of winter. Other studies show that our bodies seem to respond to the natural rhythm of light. We gear up for activity as daylight increases and gets intense and then start gearing down as the light fades.

Health Professions Students Training in Grayling

A four week clinical elective in Rural Geriatrics, will be held during August, 1986 in Grayling. The Northern Michigan Area Health Education Center, in conjunction with Central Michigan University, Ferris State College, Michigan State University, Saginaw Valley State College, Madonna College, and Western Michigan University, are all contributing to, and supporting, this educational experience. This elective is designed to offer an inter-disciplinary experience in a rural community to third-year medical students, undergraduate and graduate nursing students, health education students, pharmacy students, nutrition and dietetics students, physician assistant's students and gerontology students. The Rural Geriatrics Clerkship, which is being supported by the Region IX Area Agency on Aging, will channel students through the many phases of care available to healthy elderly as well as those who need to enter and move through the health care system.

The site selected for this experience is the community of Grayling in Crawford County. Using the Senior Center as the core of operations, students will be exposed to the elderly on a social basis, as well as follow the cycle of care through Mercy Hospital in Grayling, Timberview Village, local physician's office, Mac's Drugs, Roscommon Clinic, and the Region IX Area Agency on Aging's Case Management Program. The students will work with both community-based clinical teachers and campus-based clinical faculty.

Students will live with members of the community for the four weeks and will be able to experience total involvement in the community activities and lifestyles of the elderly in a rural area.

The goal of this experience is to create an awareness of aging people living in rural communities and of their need for access to a comprehensive set of health care and social support resources.

The Top Hats, our COA Kitchen Band, is a group of senior citizens men and women who get together once a week and play "funny" instruments (representative of kitchen items). We laugh and play and remember the good old songs that we knew when we were kids. "When You and I Were Young, Maggie" really fits the theme, and that's the message given everytime we perform, either at the COA office or around our local area. Our band members get as big a charge out of performing as the audience gets from listening to us, especially when we play at the nursing homes and hospitals. It's a joy to see faces light up and hands clap to the rhythm of the beat!

We want to increase the size of our band and put on some "REELLY BIG" shows; the more people, the merrier. Any senior citizens who would like to join us can come by the Center at 308 Lawndale Drive at 1:00 p.m. on Tuesdays. Our "auditions" are not difficult; just take a chair, grab an instrument, and you're in! You'll be glad you joined for both the enjoyment you will receive and the enjoyment you will give to others. Attention all Piano Players! We are looking for a replacement for our piano player who will soon be leaving for warmer climates. You will be involved approximately 5 hours a month volunteer time, and you will receive mileage reimbursement and lots of guaranteed fun! Interested persons can call Jan Farley at the COA office 348-8031 for more information.

You Are Special

Somewhere near you a young girl wants to be a Girl Scout. Maybe it's your daughter or younger sister or the girl next door, you know that girl scouting can offer her much that is valuable and good to help her grow to a rich and full adult.

When a girl wants to be a Girl Scout it's not as simple as registering her with a troop. A troop never just happens if adults aren't there volunteering their talents and time to make it happen. Girl Scouting is only as good as the community and family support it receives.

There are girls who need leaders who are registered so they can sell cookies but they need adult leadership. There are leaders who need short term adult help with cookies and calendar sales. Troops who need community sponsors.

If you can help fill any of these needs for a short time or for the year contact Cindy Green, S.U.D. at 348-4031 between 3 and 9 p.m. or Sue Louchart, P.R.C. at 348-8117.

Contract to Implement Services for Victims of Domestic Violence

Mercy Hospital, Grayling, has been awarded a contract from the State Department of Social Services and the Domestic Violence Prevention and Treatment Board for the development and implementation of services to victims of domestic violence in the four-county area of Crawford, Roscommon, Ogemaw and Oscoda.

River House Shelter and Domestic Crisis Services will begin operation October 1, 1986. Ms. Teri Moran, program coordinator, said that by October 1 a 24-hour crisis hotline will be in operation, enabling women to obtain help in emergency situations, or to inquire about the services available to them. Services of River House include individual and group support counseling, transportation assistance, safe housing referral, and legal information.

Plans call for the opening of River House residential Shelter in December of this year. This will eliminate the need for women to move great distances from their homes in order to find safety.

"Until we have our facility open," said Ms. Moran, "we will refer and transport women to other shelters in northern Michigan. We will be working closely with local law enforcement agencies, departments of social service and mental health agencies to assure that women in need of this service know of its existence and how to get in touch with us."

The program will deal with women and their dependent children. In 98 percent of the reported cases of domestic violence, it is the woman who is abused or battered by a husband or boy friend. National statistics estimate that every 18 minutes a woman is battered or suffers from some form of Communities change. That is evident as we look at a neighborhood, a town or any other community. The same is true of plant and animal communities. When unaffected by outside influences a natural community will undergo an orderly sequence of progressive change until a stable, self-reproducing stage is reached. This ecological succession occurs in all natural communities and understanding its steps is basic to managing fish and wildlife.

Succession begins on bare rocks, progresses through pioneer type plants and animals which produce more organic matter than they consume, to organisms which use this increased organic matter and so on until the environment has been modified as far as possible. At this point the self-regenerating or climax stage is reached. The whole process may take decades or centuries of interaction between the plants, animals, climate and non-living portions of the environment. In situations where the forest succession process is known, an examination of the present stage can lead to accurate predictions of future stages.

Secondary succession occurs when the above described primary succession is interrupted and starts over. This interruption may be caused by natural means, such as wildfire, or caused by man through lumbering, farming or other such practices. Secondary succession is what we see around us now, since havoc was raised with primary succession some time ago.

Planned secondary succession is utilized in a deliberate manner to manipulate the environment for particular species. Prescriptive burning for Kirtland's Warbler habitat is an obvious example. As is lumbering to regenerate aspen growth for deer, grouse and woodcock.

Surprise 80th Birthday Party

Beulah Stephan was greatly surprised when her family planned a birthday party for her 80th birthday at her home. The family had even put an invitation in the paper for her family and friends, but somehow Beulah had missed it so it was a total surprise to her when people started arriving.

The party was to have been held outdoors but due to very cool weather they held it in her large garage. Held on Saturday, August 23, it was attended by about 150 people who enjoyed the hors d'oeuvres, buffet luncheon, and later in the evening a corn roast, as well as a beautiful birthday cake made especially for the occasion by Mary Goss. She received many cards and beautiful gifts.

Attending the affair were people from Lansing, Saline, Adrian, Grand Rapids, Coopersville, and Manitou Beach. She had phone calls from Nea Bay, Washington, Denver, Colorado, Ridge-wood, New Jersey and West-land. Her family, Pete and Gloria Stephan, Beverly Lowrie, Vern Hoag, and Don and Ernestine Palmer planned the party for her.

Riverside Counseling Offers Services in Crawford County

NEW COUNSELING SERVICE — Nadine and David Holzbauer have opened Riverside Counseling Service in Grayling. Both hold Masters degrees in counseling and education.

Riverside Counseling Services opened its doors to the public last week in Crawford County. Riverside is directed by David C. Holzbauer, who moved here from Columbus, Ohio, August 1st. to establish the counseling center. He is accompanied by his wife, a counselor and teacher at Kalkaska High School, and their two daughters.

Holzbauer is a graduate of Indiana University and holds a Masters Degree in Counseling and Education from the University of Dayton. He has worked with several social agencies, most recently serving as counselor and program co-ordinator for the Franklin County League Against Child Abuse. Holzbauer is the former Director of Youth Services of Logan County, Ohio, and is an ordained minister of the Christian Churches.

Riverside Counseling offers a wide range of services, including family, marriage, individual, and pastoral counseling. Alcohol and Substance Abuse counseling is of special interest to Holzbauer, and plans are underway to make these services available to the schools and service organizations of the area. Group sessions dealing with Child Development and Discipline, Stress Management, Assertive Training, and Single Parenting are being planned.

Holzbauer said counseling has come of age in the 80's. "People now realize that seeing a counselor for a personal or emotional concern is much like seeing a doctor or dentist for a health concern. Treatment is almost always short-term and real change for the good is the usual result." He also observes that "as with physical ailments, emotional concerns tend to worsen when left untreated."

Persons interested in these services may contact Riverside Counseling at their office located on 114 Michigan Ave., Grayling, or phone 348-2544 Monday through Friday 9:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. Evening and weekend appointments are also available, and there is no fee for the initial session.

Oral Hygiene

The condition of the teeth affects total health. Poor oral hygiene can result in loss of appetite and weight and be a focus infection. Even if many teeth are missing, the remaining teeth should be cleaned regularly. Electric toothbrushes and waterpicks are relatively inexpensive and do a great job of cleaning the teeth when eyesight and hand manipulation are not dependable.

Cavities should be given the same attention as in younger years. It is possible to have healthy teeth into the later years, if dental hygiene has been started early and maintained throughout life. Unfortunately, neglect in early years leaves a large percentage of older people faced with the prospect of wearing dentures. False teeth must be cleaned daily under running water with a brush especially made for this purpose. The older person should be cautioned to fill the washbowl half full of water so if the teeth are dropped accidentally, there is less chance of breakage. Hot water and strong antiseptic solutions may injure dentures and should not be used. A place should be provided where they can be kept safely.

To Whom It May Concern:
The article that appeared in the August 14, 1986 Avalanche regarding the proposed planting of the grayling trout should be of great interest to all persons living above the back waters of the AuSable, fishermen, and naturalists since the DNR proposes to poison off everything before the grayling trout are planted.

What would this do to the birds, animals and such that drink or feed from the AuSable? We have the bald headed eagle feeding in this area, swans, blue herons, bitterns, Canadian geese, mink, otter, deer, beaver, and ducks. What happens to their food supply after poisoning the river?

What do the grayling trout feed on after all the fishes and insect larvae are destroyed?

There are no public access sites for persons to use while fishing for the grayling. This is all residential property along the river.

It would be nice to have our namesake, the grayling trout in our stream again, but not at the expense of destroying other species of animals and fishes. If the DNR would just plant the grayling trout without poisoning the river, I would be all for it.

Our son caught a 13 1/2" brook trout from this stream. Natural fish are surviving and multiplying, why destroy the natural species for one that, more than likely, will not be able to survive in the water that is a few degrees too warm for them. Even if the brook are re-planted, there is no way you could ever replace the natural species already here.

If you live along AuSable Trail or Wendy Lane area and wish to be notified of any public meetings regarding this proposed poisoning of the river, please call 348-8472 and I will notify you of the public meetings.

Sincerely,

William Gildner, Sr.

Woods Water Fish

by Barnie Engel

The fall season is rapidly approaching. We had an average or normal summer, although weather-wise, not what the doctor would have ordered, had he had a say so about it. The activities at the trout ponds are winding down after another successful summer. Our visitor count has been very good. The weather played a part, sometimes good and other times?

There was a lot of work on the project that does not show on the surface. The grounds were well kept. Many favorable comments from the people visiting the area have told us how beautiful and quiet the area was. Some called it a garden surrounded with beauties of nature. It is comments like those that makes a person feel their efforts have been worthwhile and fruitful.

From the green of spring and summer to the yellows, the golds, the crimsons, and browns of the fall season, we could call it a metamorphosis of nature changing before our eyes that no artist could duplicate. The fall brings a chill, the leaves fall to their mossy bed where nature is already germinating seeds for the growing time in another summer season.

If you were rather busy this past summer and did not find the time to visit the trout ponds, we invite you to do so next summer. Whether or not you have given it any thought, all things in nature sooner or later come to an end. The trout ponds have been a part of this north country for most of this century. There will come a day when the ponds will be no more. Time takes its toll, our days are numbered.

On behalf of the hatchery committee and the Crawford County Commissioners, I appreciate your support this past summer that made it possible for us to bring this project to you for another summer.

We are looking forward to next summer, also hoping to see you. You can help us make it happen again.

Until next summer. Auf Wiedersehen.

participants, and is being co-sponsored by Kirtland Community College, Mid-Michigan Community College, the Kellogg Triad, Region 7B Small Business Center, and Ferguson and Associates of Saginaw. This is one in a series of seminars being offered throughout the year.

Demonstrations and discussions will include developing a logo, creating an image, and tying together radio, TV and newspaper advertising. Development of an advertising budget will also be discussed with a concentration on making your advertising dollar stretch in today's marketplace.

Presenter for this seminar will be Tom Ferguson, owner and Chief Executive Officer of an advertising/marketing/public relations firm in Saginaw.

The following varied dates and times have been scheduled throughout the area communities, to provide flexibility in attendance for participants: September 16th in East Tawas at the Holiday Inn; or on September 17th in West Branch at Forward's Motor Inn; or on September 30th in Houghton Lake at the Holiday Inn. Interested persons should register early, as enrollment in each session is restricted to 35.

Seminars will begin at 9 a.m. sharp, and conclude at 4 p.m. A registration fee of $20 will be charged, which will include morning and afternoon coffee breaks, lunch and all seminar materials. A certificate of completion will be awarded to participants.

For further information on this program in the series, contact Dale Marie Losee at Kirtland Community College at 517/275-5121, ext. 228. To register, please send a $20 registration fee per person, made payable to Kirtland Community College, along with the date and place of the seminar you wish to attend, to Kirtland Community College, 10775 W. BOAT JAMBOREE — Red sky at night set the tone for the first annual Lake Margrethe Musical Boat Jamboree. Set smack in the middle of the lake's west bay about 20 boats and pontoons of various shapes and sizes gathered to enjoy the festivities. Music was provided by the AuSable Dixieland band who loaded themselves and their instruments, including a piano, onto one pontoon which was then secured to a second where food and refreshments were doled out in large quantities to the happy spectators. Before long all in attendance were dancing and singing and enjoying themselves in this most unusual outdoor setting, and a large number of shoreline spectators gathered to listen from a distance.

The purpose of the celebration according to boat owner Larry McNamara was to "release some of the tension that builds up over the course of a long busy summer. We've needed something like this for years and this year we finally decided to do it."

Sponsored in part by the Grayling Chamber of Commerce the musical boat jamboree will become an annual event with the goal of attracting more and more boats and participants and adding more and different kinds of festival events each year. The food for this year's jamboree was provided by the Grayling State Bank and the Grayling Restaurant and beverages were provided by Mac's Drugs and Spike's Keg O' Nails.

A family cared enough to brighten their mother's life with a whole weekend of work painting her house. Ethel Parkinson's home on Spruce Street looks very nice in gray with dark trim, the result of her family's efforts.

There have been many places missed this summer, I'm sure, and if you'll let me know, they'll be mentioned. People really do care and take pride in their homes and businesses. The flower bed at the City Hall has looked very good as have many of the beds of petunias in the business district. On M-72 West, Dr. Kerle's office has petunias. Dr. Fenn's driveway has a planter and Century 21 has flowers.

There are two new fences and neatly kept yards on Michigan Avenue, one at the former Spike MacNeven house and the former John Harland house; both families are unknown to me, sorry.

Gordon Pond on Spruce Street always has lots of flowers in his back yard and front walk and the Triangle Motel has a huge border of yellow flowers.

Another place that has been spending the summer in improvements is the Eagles Club. They have had beautiful flowers in a planter out by the road and now they have a new black-topped driveway and parking lot this week. Somebody has been working hard out there. It's nice that a club has so much pride!

Vikings Win Home Opener Against Roscommon 54-36

Grayling whipped Roscommon 54-36 in the Vikings' first home game of the year Monday night.

After the first quarter was a stalemate at 9-9, the Grayling girls varsity basketball team broke the game open with a full-court press. Grayling outscored Roscommon 19-5 in eight minutes and never looked back.

"Roscommon didn't have the ball handlers and we got quite a few steals," said assistant coach Mike Shearer, in charge of videotaping and publicity for the varsity team. "We scored on some lay-ups and Shawn Denton and Rebecca Jones controlled the rebounding." Grayling increased their lead the rest of the game and weren't threatened.

Michelle Moore led the team with 15 points and had seven steals. Shawn Denton had 14 points and led the team with 17 rebounds.

Richele Trudeau scored 11 points, Jennifer Ojala scored 6, Rebecca Jones scored 4 and had 13 rebounds, and Cathy Kraus had 2.

Grayling shot 12 of 18 from the line with Jones hitting 4 of 5, Denton was 2 of 2, Kraus 2 of 2, and Ojala 2 of 2.

A good-size crowd attended the home opener for Grayling. Grayling faces West Branch at home Thursday, Sept. 11.

Grayling almost came back for a victory in the season opener but fell 46-42 to Houghton Lake. Houghton Lake had the Vikings down 30-15 at half but Grayling cut the lead to 39-32 at the end of three quarters. In the final quarter, Grayling came within three points but couldn't pull ahead.

Head Viking coach Howard Lehti said Grayling handled Houghton Lake's 6'2" player well but their point guard scored 18 points.

For Grayling, Moore scored 15, Jones 9, Denton 7, Trudeau 5, Dena Thayer 4, and Jenni Branch 2.

The Grayling J.V. team is 2-0 with a 40-32 win over Houghton Lake and a 42-19 win over Roscommon. Against Roscommon, Melanie Ojala scored 14, Patti Tremblay 11, Lori Gust 7, Deanna Phelps 3, A.J. Pratt 2, Linda Goodale 2, and Ann Petosky 1. Gust had 15 rebounds and Phelps 11. Pratt had 5 steals and 5 assists.

Against Houghton Lake, Ojala led the team with 12 points.

Stocktons Win Bronze Medal

Butch Stockton, 37, of Higgins Lake and Brett Stockton, 23, of Grayling, won a bronze medal in the National Marathon Championships on the Barren River, in Bowling Green, Kentucky.

The race was held in time trial heats, 15 canoes per heat. Each heat was 3 minutes apart from the previous one. At the halfway point the Stocktons held a 7 second lead. However, they came into a large number of canoes that started in the heats ahead of them. These canoes obstructed their pathway and slowed them down. This gave an advantage to the canoes that started in the earlier heats. Al Rudquist, a six time National champion and his partner, Mike Fries, the 1982 World Champion, finished in 1st place. National White Water Champion, Randy Drake, of Virginia Beach and his partner, Steve Fulton, a U.S. White Water Team member, finished in 2nd place. Both of these teams had the advantage of starting in the first heat.

Wayne Stockton, 47, of Grayling, and Harold Owens, 47, of Florida, finished 8th place in the Masters Class. This class consists of canoers around the U.S. that are over 40 years of age.

Butch and Brett Stockton have also been named the current Michigan Canoe Racing Association state point champs for 1986.

Air Pollutants In Space Pose Health Hazards

A Los Alamos National Laboratory study predicts that airborne particles at zero gravity settle in the human respiratory tract differently than they do on Earth.

The theoretical study states that common air pollutants such as dust, bacteria, and smoke could present potential health hazards for pioneers manning future space stations or galactic colonies.

Here's an interesting question... Can you guess which man has played in more World Series games than anyone else in history? Answer is Yogi Berra... Yogi set the all-time record by playing a grand total of 75 different World Series Games.

What was the strongest World Series ever played? Now about the one in 1904? Did you know in that Series the Yankees scored 55 runs and the Pirates only 27, yet the Pirates won the Series four games to three!

Could you imagine the manager of a pennant-winning baseball team saying he didn't want his team to play in the World Series? ...Did you know such a thing once happened? ...It was in 1904... The Giants won the National League pennant but their manager, John McGraw, refused to let them meet the American League winner, the Red Sox... And so, no World Series was played in 1904.

I bet you didn't know... That GM and Scheer Motors now is offering its lowest in the history of auto financing interest rate, 2.9%. Also our Chrysler division is offering 2.4%. Please come to Scheer Motors during our year end clearance. Deals will never be better!

Grayling Loses 13-0 Lead, Bucks Win Opener 28-13

Grayling raced to a 13-0 lead but Roscommon fought back to win the season opener 28-13 Friday night.

"It was like two different ball games," head Viking coach Bill Klinger said. "We felt we were in full control and then there were two big plays that changed the momentum. The momentum drained out of us and Roscommon gained the momentum and never lost it. The rest of the night they beat us."

Scott VanDeVen recovered a fumble in the first quarter to give Grayling the ball on Roscommon's 25-yard line. The Vikings drove in the score with Jeff Wolcott going in from the one yard line. Jason McEvers booted the extra point.

In the second quarter, "Bubba" Nielson recovered a fumble on Roscommon's 30-yard line to set up another score. Jeff Palmer caught a 30-yard touchdown pass from Todd Klinger to give Grayling a 13-0 lead. The extra-point kick missed.

Afterwards, the two plays that Klinger felt changed the game took place. Roscommon scored on a 60-yard run. On the next kick-off, Palmer ran the kick-off back 85 yards into the end zone but the play was called back because of a penalty for a forward lateral.

Roscommon scored in the second quarter after recovering a fumble on the Grayling 35-yard line. Roscommon scored again in the third quarter on a 60-yard drive to go ahead 21-13. Roscommon scored in the fourth quarter on a strange pass play. A Roscommon receiver caught a pass over the middle, three Vikings hit him, the ball popped in the air, and it dropped into the receiver's hands as he went for a 30-yard score.

Grayling gained 84 yards on the ground and 56 through passing. Roscommon gained 195 yards on the ground and 67 yards through passing.

Tom Shively led Grayling with 37 yards, Palmer had 24, and Wolcott 23. Klinger was 6 for 14 for 81 yards with one touchdown and two interceptions. Palmer caught one pass for 30 yards, McEvers caught three passes and Shively two passes.

Grayling lost one fumble and recovered three. Steve Lehti recovered the third fumble for Grayling.

Grayling faces class B Cheboygan at home Friday. Cheboygan won their opening game 39-8 over St. Ignace.

In junior varsity action, Grayling beat Roscommon 22-6 Thursday.

Rusty Argue scored all 22 points for Grayling. Running back John Lamie also ran for quite a few yards as Grayling's offensive line opened large holes. Viking coach Charles Spencer said Grayling's defense pushed Roscommon all over the field for the first half. Leading the defense was Brian Kernstock, Craig Hudson, John Gay, and Jeff Millikin.

Whale Music

When up to 3,000 beluga whales were trapped beneath ice in the Bering Sea in 1985, a Soviet icebreaker plowed an escape path that, averred the ship's crew, the whales followed only after the mariners played classical music for them, says National Geographic World.

Chamber Notes

By Terry Wright

"For everything there is a season" and the summer of '86 may have been the best season ever for your Chamber of Commerce. Our office answered more inquiries by mail, by phone and in person than ever before. Our memberships have never been greater, our image has never been more positive and our building has never been more beautiful.

Our summer programs, such as the Milltown Festival, our involvement in the AuSable Marathon and the International Canoe Racing Hall of Fame were very successful and the mass media coverage of the Grayling and Frederic areas was better and more positive than ever. We believe our efforts were one contributing factor to a very successful summer for most of our community businesses and we're not afraid to blow our own horn because we've worked very hard to earn that right.

Despite all of our recent successes I am the most proud of the partnership that your Chamber is developing with all other aspects of the community. We are becoming a respected and unified voice in community development and are increasingly being sought out for inclusion in area affairs. The business community, through the Chamber, is starting to work together for the common good of building quality lives for us all.

We're proud of our work and will continue to be your "partner in progress" through the coming seasons and years, and that's a promise that we hope you all can take to the bank.

Really Winning...

A university head football coach gathered his team around him before the game. "It's going to be a tough one today," he said as the men looked intently, readying themselves for the gridiron.

Then he made a statement that widened eyes and opened minds: "The easiest thing today will be running into the end zone with the ball. But your hardest challenge will be getting up off the ground when they knock you down short of the goal line. Any boy can walk that ball into pay dirt; only THE MEN will get up, brush themselves off when they fail, and go at it again."

Five years of standing on the football sideline as team chaplain proved to me the wise coach's philosophy. The guys who made it on the gridiron were the ones who could get up time after time, play after play, and do their job 'all over again."

The Apostle Paul never played football, but he was a great athlete in the service of his Lord. Said he: "We are afflicted in every way, but not crushed; perplexed, but not driven to despair; persecuted but not forsaken; struck down, but not destroyed..." (II Cor. 4:8,9)

Winning is not always possible, but winning the battle with yourself "to keep on keeping on" is victory in any stadium.

1986 Hunting Rules Announced By DNR

The Michigan Department of Natural Resources (DNR) has announced its hunting rules changes for the 1986 bear, pheasant, and crow seasons. The season date and areas open for elk hunting in 1986 were also approved, but license quotas will be established in August. The changes were approved by the State Natural Resources Commission (NRC) in June.

DNR Wildlife Division Chief Ed Mikula reminded hunters that a 25 cent surcharge is added to all license fees to support the Report All Poaching (RAP) Program.

1986 Elk Hunt

The fourth controlled Michigan elk hunt will be held from December 9 through December 14 in a 435-square-mile area in parts of Montmorency, Otsego, Presque Isle, and Cheboygan counties. Michigan residents age 14 and older who have not participated in previous elk hunts are eligible for a license.

DNR wildlife biologists estimate the quota may be less than the 1986 quota of 120 because the elk herd is within the goal range of 900 to 1,100 elk.

Elk hunters will be allowed to hunt with the same arms as are legal to take deer, except buckshot is prohibited.

Interested hunters must purchase an application card for $4, which is not refundable, at DNR field offices or license dealers or have it mailed by the DNR by September 15. Successful applicants will be notified by mail and required to pay a $100.25 fee and attend a half-day orientation session on December 8. The fees collected go into the Game and Fish Protection Fund.

Last year a record 52,658 hunters applied for 120 elk hunting permits. All hunters who participated (one hunter left early) were successful. For more information, contact DNR Wildlife Division, P.O. Box 30028, Lansing, Michigan 48909, (517) 373-1263.

Bear Hunting

The NRC reinstated a November 15-30 bear season in the Upper Peninsula, which had been dropped last year, to coincide with the firearms deer season. Bear baiting rules were changed - baiting can begin on August 27 two weeks before the season opening in the Upper Peninsula and September 5 in the Lower Peninsula.

Residents and nonresidents may hunt bears in the Lower Peninsula (Zone 2 - using firearms and bows) from September 19 - Sept. 25. Bear may be hunted with bows only from October 3 - October 9. Dogs may be used from Sept. 19 - Sept. 25. Areas open to hunting are Alcona, Alpena, Antrim, Charlevoix, Cheboygan, Crawford, Emmet, Iosco, Kalkaska, Missaukee, Montmorency, Ogemaw, Oscoda, Otsego, Presque Isle, and Roscommon counties.

No bear licenses can be purchased or sold after November 14. The license fee for residents is $11.25 and $150.25 for nonresidents. Licenses are available at DNR field offices and from license dealers throughout the State.

Pheasant Hunting

The season on rooster pheasants in all three zones will remain the same as last year.

In Zone 2 and 3, the Lower Peninsula, residents may hunt pheasant from October 20 - November 11. The bag limit will be two roosters daily, four in possession, two in possession opening day.

The small game license fee for residents is $7.25 and $50.25 for nonresidents. A $20.25 three day, nonresident license is also available.

Under United States
A hole dug straight through the earth from the contiguous United States would come out in the Indian Ocean, says National Geographic World.

Hunters may purchase a small game hunting license at any DNR field office or from Information Services Center, DNR, P.O. Box 30028, Lansing, MI 48909.

Crow Hunting

The crow season will remain the same as last year - open statewide all year. A hunting license is required to hunt crow, except by farmers who take crow on their own land. Wildlife biologists say this hunt will in no way endanger the crow population. Hunters may purchase a small game hunting license at any DNR field office or from license dealers throughout the State.

Doodles From The Tall Timber

by Wendell L. Hoover
Park Interpreter

We often think of the bark on trees as being of little use, but consider the following. During the heyday of logging the bark of the Hemlock was considered to be more valuable than the wood. The bark of the Hemlock is rich in tannic acid and was and still is used in the tanning of leather.

As fuel, ten tons of dried bark is equal in heating value to seven tons of coal. At one time or another most of us have used birch bark shreds to start a fire. Even when it is wet it will burn.

If you wish to dye fabric with natural colors try the bark of Alder for a bluish-black or Apple for a yellow or Black Birch for a nice reddish-brown. Hemlock bark yields a tan color. Red Maple bark produces a dark blue while Sumach will yield a gray color. The colors may be set with natural mordants: copperas (caustic), vinegar (acid), strong tea or steeped Hemlock bark (tannin) and soft soap plus rusty nails (iron oxide).

The bark of some trees can be used as food. The inner bark of White Birch, Slippery Elm and Beech all have food value. Distilled Black Birch bark produces oil of wintergreen, and the inner bark is an important ingredient for birch beer. A cough syrup can be made by boiling together one pound of the inner bark of Slippery Elm, one gallon of water and one cup of sugar.

CARD OF THANKS

I want to thank all my friends and relatives for all the beautiful cards, gifts, and flowers for my 80th birthday. Also all the telephone calls and for my family for such a wonderful surprise. It was a wonderful day thanks to each and everyone, and God Bless.

Beulah Stephan

RSVP Reports

by Aleta Thompson,
Director

RSVP's all over the U.S., Guam, Puerto Rico and the Virgin Islands continue to be based on the belief that older Americans are a significant resource and that meaningful opportunities can be developed in the traditional spirit of voluntarism and community service.

The distinguishing feature of RSVP remains its ability to respond to community needs and design volunteer opportunities which meet the unique talents of older individuals.

Our program in Crawford and Roscommon finds volunteers in the area of illiteracy, working with the remedial reading programs at the elementary schools. In the area of long term care, visiting programs are at both nursing homes and foster care homes. Volunteers drivers deliver meals-on-wheels at area community meal sites. Youth Service finds volunteers tutoring children, and just being that special friend when there is a family crisis at home. Kenquest House has volunteers helping the young pregnant girls to cope with problems, or just being a friend while the new baby and mother are making adjustments.

RSVP has become a trend setter. Since 1971 when it began - RSVP has consistently and dramatically changed the way society and older people view each other.

The program has shown that when you match the needs of a community with the experience and interests of seniors, there are few problems that can't be solved - and few challenges that RSVP can't meet.

If you are 60 years of age or older and would like to become an RSVP member, stop by the offices at 308 Lawndale, Grayling, or 5220 E. Houghton Lake Drive, (Roscommon County Airport). Also give us a call at 348-4341 or 348-8322 Crawford County, or 366-5613 Roscommon County.

Thirty one came out for the Satellite dinner. All had a good time playing the slogan trivia. Don Germaine won the 50-50. Some of our people will be leaving for the south soon. You will be missed, have a good trip and be looking for you to come back. Maybe you can figure out how to bring some of the warm weather back with you, but just knowing you people gives me a warm feeling. Have a good day.

Wed., Sept. 10, Blood/Sugar and Pressure, 9 a.m.
Thurs., Sept. 11 - 5:30 COA meeting at 6 p.m. Public hearing for the center.

Tues., Sept. 16 - 5:30 program with Mary Noa, pianist, you may remember Mary before retiring, the head nurse at Mercy Hospital.

Anyone interested in making crafts, showing their ideas, with Christmas coming we will have a formal meeting Tues., Sept. 16th at 10 a.m. at the RSVP office. For more information you can call 348-4341, and ask for Eva. Coffee will be on hand.

Congratulations to David and Tammy (Mishler) Elgart on their marriage Sept. 6, 1986. David and Tammy will be living in Royal Oak. Tammy will be missed at the First Baptist Church, she was a wonderful Sunday School teacher, and I know she will be missed by the children.

Recent visitors to Emil and Emma Mattson at Lake Margrethe were Jean & John Wilson and Jodi of Saginaw, Dave and Arlene Welch, Steven and Shandra, of Rockford, Bob Bloom of GR Baptist College and Paul and Audrey Hendrickson of Alpena. They also visited the David Englands.

While Kerry Clough was here from Colorado, he also visited his brother, Art Clough, Jr., and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Gary Taylor and children of Escanaba and their exchange student, Claudia Nietzsche of Frankfurt, Germany, and Mr. and Mrs. Hal Anderson and children of Escanaba, and their exchange student, Alexander Kuenkele, of Cologne, Germany, spent Labor Day weekend at the Taylor's Danish Landing cottage. They wanted to show the students the Hartwick Pines, the National Guard Camp, the Fish Hatchery and the Museum. The Taylors also visited her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Souders.

David and Kay Hoag and children, Laura and Michael, of Seattle, Washington, flew to Michigan where they spent from Sunday to Thursday in Port Huron with his family. The Jansens picked them up in Saginaw to bring them home on August 28 to visit Kay's parents and other relatives. The Hoags came to attend her class reunion. The Jansens took them to the airport in Traverse City on Friday.

Guests of Evelyn Lozon were her daughter, Emma Jean, and husband, Robert Huskins, of Westfield Center, from Wednesday to Friday of last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert King and children, Janet, Robin, and Kimberley and little Robert King, all of Pensacola, Florida, visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Homer King, Sr., for a week. Homer had to return to the VA Hospital in Ann Arbor again so while the Robert Kings were here they took Lillian down where she and Homer celebrated their 45th wedding anniversary with a party in the picnic area of the hospital.

Bernie Sieger, Esle Jansen, and Roberta Wright, attended the state fall board meeting of the BPW at the Doherty Hotel in Clare on Saturday.

Dale and Jackie Burpee took a two and one-half week, 5,000-mile motorcycle trip throughout the western states. They camped and moteled and did a lot of sight-seeing at Mt. Rushmore, the Black Hills, the Badlands, the Gorge in Colorado, Indian Villages, an Air Show in Sturgis, Colorado, and a Motorcycle Rally which was so huge that the Burpees had to stay 55 miles from the location in order to find lodging. They also visited the largest dam in the US, the states of New Mexico and Utah and figured they were in 15 different states on the trip.

Liz Vajda

Aces No. 3

Another of our regular golfers has joined the special ranks of the Hole-in-One club. Liz Vajda aced number 3 hole on Monday afternoon while playing golf with her husband, Charlie. She used her driver to drop it in the cup. A threesome of players on No. 4 tee witnessed the event and came over to sign her card. Congratulations, Liz!

shortage of all types of Blood is causing elective surgery to delays almost everywhere in the southern part of the Lower Peninsula.

Despite the fact that there is absolutely no chance of contracting AIDS by the process of donating Blood, there are still some folks who are staying away because of such fears; and others are being persuaded to donate their own blood and have it frozen for future need if they must face surgery or other medical treatment requiring blood transfusion sometime in the future.

Unfortunately some organizations are "selling" this procedure which is very expensive but also very profitable to the processor. The fees for freezing and storage of one's own blood for potential future use are high.

American Red Cross Blood is freely given by Volunteer Donors and the Blood itself is provided freely to the person who needs it. Only the cost of drawing the Blood, storing it, and reprocessing it is charged to the user. There is no charge for American Red Cross Blood itself.

So, even if you have never given Blood before, mark your calendar for Wednesday, September 17th, and come to the American Legion Hall between Noon and 6 p.m. and give a pint of your precious blood. If you need transportation, call Dial-A-Ride, 348-5409, and they will come and get you and take you back home without charge if you come to the American Legion Hall to give a pint of Blood.

Truly, there is no gift an individual can make, which is more satisfying, more unselfish, than giving a pint of one's own blood to keep some less fortunate person alive and restored to health.

If you have never experienced the feeling - try it! Come to the Legion Hall on Wednesday afternoon September 17th and donate a pint of your blood! You will not only be proud of yourself afterwards, you will like yourself a little more!

Crawford County
Right to Life

The Crawford County Right to Life (CCRTL) is proud to present, "The Committee," a two time Emmy Award winning film, "The Committee," which is a futuristic view of the life issues, is narrated by Joseph Campanella. It will be shown on Tuesday, September 16, at 7:30 p.m. at the Knights of Columbus Hall.

CCRTL's regular monthly meeting will follow the film presentation. There is no charge for viewing the film. The public is encouraged to attend and become more informed on these important issues. For more information on the availability of the film, contact Johanna Jurkovich at 348-2980.
